DIPLOMA SUPPLEMENT

This Diploma Supplement model was developed by the European Commission, Council of Europe and UNESCO/CEPES. The purpose of the supplement is to provide sufficient independent data to improve the international "transparency" and fair academic and professional recognition of qualifications (diplomas, degrees, certificates etc.). It is designed to provide a description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies that were pursued and successfully completed by the individual named on the original qualification to which this supplement is appended. It should be free from any value judgements, equivalence statements or suggestions about recognition. Information in all eight sections should be provided. Where information is not provided, an explanation should give the reason why.

1. Information identifying the holder of the qualification

- 1.1 Family name: Tkatjev
- 1.2 Given name: Vladimir

Scope

A Bachelor of Education/Master of Education shall be obtained after completion of course requirements of 120, 140, 160, 180, 200 or 220 credit points. The programme shall comprise three integrated educational fields: a general field comprising 60 credit points, a field with one or more areas of emphasis comprising at least 40 credit points specific to a subject or subject area and a field with one area of specialisation comprising at least 20 credit points. In the general field, interdisciplinary subject studies shall comprise at least 30 credit points. - To qualify for teaching and other educational activities in a) preschools, pre-school classes, the lower level of the compulsory school as well as school-age child care and mother tongue tuition, at least 140 credit points are required; b) higher level of the compulsory school and upper secondary schools, with the exception, however, of the upper secondary school's vocational subjects, 180 credit points are required, including one or two specialisation/s worth at least 60 credit points in the relevant subject/s or subject areas. To qualify to teach subjects specific to vocationally-oriented programmes in upper secondary schools 120 credit points are required. Instead of emphasis and specialisation, extensive professional experience as well as 60 credit points in higher education or other equivalent education are required. To qualify to teach Swedish and civics in the compulsory school at least 60 credit points are required and at upper secondary school level at least 80 credit points in subject areas relevant to these subjects. In the case of mother tongue tuition, special focus on the relevant subject area comprising at least 60 credit points is required.

Objectives (in addition to the general objectives set out in chapter 1, section 9 of the Higher Education Act)

In order to obtain a degree in Education, the student shall have acquired the knowledge and skills required to realise the objectives of pre-school, school and adult education and to contribute to development of the respective activities in accordance with the applicable regulations and guidelines. Furthermore, the student shall be able to a) implement good and relevant knowledge in subjects or subject areas so that all pupils learn and develop; b) judge and evaluate pupils' learning and development as well as inform and cooperate with parents and guardians; c) impart and establish the basic values of society and democracy; d) become familiar with, analyse and take a position on universal matters, ecological living conditions and changes in the world; e) realise the importance of gender differences in the teaching situation and in connection with presentation of subject matter; f) independently and together with others plan, implement, evaluate and develop teaching and other educational activities as well as participate in the management of these; g) utilise and systemise his/her experience and the experience of others as well as relevant research results as a basis for the development of the profession; h) use information technology in educational development and be aware of the importance of the role of the media in this context.

Miscellaneous

At least 10 credit points in the general field shall relate to teaching practice. Likewise, in the field with one or more areas of emphasis at least 10 credit points shall refer to teaching practice. To qualify for a university degree in Education the student shall have completed an independent project (degree project) of 10 credit points. The degree certificate shall state the areas of emphasis and specialisation the student has completed and for what teaching or activities the training is intended. The objectives set by the institution of higher education concerned shall in addition apply.
